Two Killed in Auto Crash Near McLeansboro

Two carnival men were killed and one injured early Thursday afternoon when their automobile left Route 142 two miles south of McLeansboro and hit a tree about 15 feet off the highway.

Dead are William Bedean, 36, of Tampa, Fla., and Mitch Wolf, 53, of Covington, La., State Policeman Michael Taggart, who investigated the crash reported. Harry Gaughn, 53, of Tampa, driver of the automobile, was taken to Vickers Memorial hospital in McLeansboro where it was reported his condition was fair. He suffered cuts and an ankle injury. Gaughn told authorities he thought a rear tire must have blown. He said the men were connected with the Buff Hottle show playing at Eldorado.

The auto bore Florida license plates. Taggart said he learned the three men were en route to Salem, Ill.

There were no witnesses to the crash but a state highway maintenance crew saw the cloud of dust created and arrived shortly afterwards at the scene.

Four Other Boys Are Injured in Crash on Rt. 45

Edwin Cannon, Billy Watson, Robert Taylor, Joe Allen Moore Hurt

As tragic a highway crash as has ever struck Saline county last night took the lives of a Harrisburg grocer, two of his Sunday school pupils and an Eldorado service station operator and had sent four other young Sunday school pupils to hospitals.

Dead are: Marion Lasseter, 46, operator of the Midway Market at Granger and Sloan, Harrisburg; Jimmy Leigh Smith, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Smith of 318 West Raymond Avenue, Harrisburg;

Bertis Lee Webb, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Webb of Buena Vista community west of Harrisburg;

Earl Brown, 32, who operated a service station on Route 34 at the Seagraves crossing north of Eldorado.

List of Injured

Injured were the following Harrisburg lads, all around 12 years old and members of Lasseter's Sunday school class of boys at McKinley Avenue Baptist church:

Edwin Cannon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Cannon, in Ferrell hospital at Eldorado suffering a broken jaw and broken leg, according to his father, and who was being x-rayed this morning;

Billy Watson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Watson, 110 West Park, suffering concussion and shock at Ferrell hospital;

Robert Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Taylor who was in a serious condition last night at Ferrell hospital, where he underwent emergency surgery. His injuries included a broken leg.

Joe Allen Moore, son of Mildred Moore and Joab Moore, who lives with his mother at 123 West College street, in Lightner hospital where it was reported he was in a state of shock and in serious condition.

Head-On Crash

Lasseter, who resided at 1207 South Webster, had the six Sunday school pupils in his station wagon with him and either was going to Eldorado to treat them or was returning from Eldorado after the treat when his vehicle figured in a head-on crash with the automobile driven by Brown on U. S. 45 between Muddy and Wason somewhere around 7:30 p. m.

State Policemen Roy Lane and Art Athmer and Deputy Sheriff Charles Donelson said that they had found no witnesses as to just what happened except those who were in the hospitals, and that they were not able to talk.

Coroner James Thornton stated that all of the boys were in a state of shock this morning except young Cannon, and that he was being x-rayed. He said he would not set an inquest date until after he had talked with some of the boys. Donelson, who said he arrived at the scene at 7:45 p. m., was told the accident had occurred about ten minutes previous. He said that he could find no

Tell of Happenings

Here 25 Years Ago

HISTORY DEPT.: Got to wondering what was going on around town this last week in June 25 years ago, and brother and sister, there isn't a better place to find out than in the ancient files of The Daily Register.

So into the latter part of June, 1932, I poked my head and came out with the following:

M. M. Leighton, state geologist, came here to confer with State Senator Charles H. Thompson about the Century of Progress exhibit of the State Department of Mines and Minerals at the World's Fair in Chicago. Senator Thompson is on the World's Fair commission and a member of the committee in charge of the mines and minerals exhibit.

A public celebration, the Register said, is all that is lacking in the completion of the Middle Fork drainage project, in which Middle Fork of the Saline river was widened and deepened from a point 100 yards west of Route 143 (now Route 34) in No Man's Land (just north of Harrisburg) to Gormley bridge 12 and a half miles downstream.

Rev. Fr. G. H. Netemeyer came here from Clinton county to succeed Rev. Fr. E. J. Fix as pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church. Fr. Fix was assigned to a larger church in Centralia.

The Unemployment Relief commission of Saline county met in Harrisburg and decided to ask for $9,000 to provide food for unemployed families of the county during July.

Price of haircuts was reduced from 50 cents to 25 cents and the Palace Clothing House advertised: 18 suits for $4.95, 150 suits for $12.50 and 200 suits for $15.

Casey Dempsey, reporter for The Register, left Sunday afternoon for Detroit to attend the four-day convention of Kiwanis International. He was driven to Mt. Carmel by Walter Wheatley and boarded a fast train there. Kenneth Turner (who?) of Eldorado, recently graduated from the University of Illinois School of Journalism, will be the reporter for The Daily Register during Dempsey's absence.

Winton Goodrich, 46, employee of the Harrisburg news stand, was killed when hit by a car while crossing Route 1 (now U. S. Route 45) to get to the Big Four baseball park, where a Twilight league baseball game was in session.

Official decorators from Terre Haute, Ind., were in Eldorado decorating streets and business houses for the 24th district American Legion convention scheduled for July 2, 3 and 4.

John W. Epperson, a native of Johnson county who moved to Washington, D. C. at an early age, came into The Daily Register office at the age of 79. He said he was a newsboy and was in the gallery at Ford's theatre and saw Abraham Lincoln assassinated.

First reports came today of hundreds of deaths from Hurricane Audrey.

The disaster area centered around Cameron, La., where the hurricane hit Thursday.

A Lake Charles, La., Weather Bureau report to Washington said from 200 to 300 persons were killed in the vicinity of Cameron and Creole.

The situation was revealed after the hurricane sped through the area and in weakened form blew up the Mississippi River Valley.

The sheriff of Cameron Parish reported the town of Cameron was practically wiped out and in dire need of medical aid.

The only route into Cameron was by water and emergency teams were being organized to go into the area by boat.

Reports of the death toll varied. However, Weather Bureau officials said they had no confirmation of reports that 1,000 persons may have been killed.

A storm wave, pushed up by the hurricane winds, was believed to have drowned many of the victims.

Mrs. Nell Duncan, Former Resident, Dies at Spokane

Mrs. Nell Duncan, 71, of Spokane, Wash., died Thursday afternoon in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ann Dillon, in Spokane. She was a former resident of Harrisburg and an active member of the McKinley Avenue Baptist church until she moved away eleven years ago. She visited with relatives in Harrisburg about four years ago during the summer.

The body is in the care of the Smith funeral home in Spokane and the funeral, at 1 p. m. Saturday, and burial will be in that city.

Mrs. Duncan is survived by her daughters, Mrs. Dillon and Mrs. Helen Walters of Spokane, and Mrs. Katherine Garrett of Middletown, Ky. Her sister, Mrs. Ollie Kent, lives at Marion, and her brothers are Frank McDonald of Harrisburg, Harry McDonald of Sparta, Louie McDonald of Johnston City and Cressie McDonald of Phoenix, Ariz. There are six grandchildren and five great-grandchildren, and several nieces and nephews near Marion. She is related to the Baker and Ingram families of Harrisburg community.

Funeral Services Held Today for Jacob Hoskins Of Near Norris City

Jacob P. Hoskins, 55, who lived on the Ernie Flota farm near Norris City, died at the Ferrell hospital, Eldorado, suddenly and unexpectedly, shortly after his admission there, Wednesday.

The body was in the care of the Cox funeral home of Ridgway and the funeral was held at 2:30 p. m. today in the Powell Baptist church.

Rev. C. E. Hedges of Norris City officiated assisted by Rev. Madge Wilson, and burial was in the church cemetery at one point reported 87 deaths and another 100 to 300 persons injured.

Another report said 200 persons were killed at Pecan Island south of Abbeville, La., but that 80 to 100 persons missing were located, leaving 100 unaccounted for.

Earlier, Hurricane Audrey had taken 18 lives in its course through the South. The earlier reports before the Cameron area disaster were disclosed also listed more than 100 persons injured.

At Lake Charles, La., which bore the brunt of the storm, at least 168 persons were hospitalized with storm injuries. At least 60 per cent of the city's homes were damaged.

Tornadoes flicked from the fringe of the hurricane, causing heavy damage at Houston and Philadelphia, Miss. Five persons were injured and four homes were destroyed by the twister at Philadelphia.

Torrential rains swamped sections of the Midwest in advance of the storm. St. Louis recorded about 1½ inches of rain and Indianapolis got more than 2 inches of water.

Forecasters said Audrey's moisture laden winds will continue to dump heavy rain over the Midwest today. The hurricane center is expected to move as far north as southern Illinois and Indiana by nightfall, where it will join with another storm center pushing across the Plains.

The Plains states storm poured up to five inches of water in central Kansas, posing threats of new floods in the state. Hundreds of acres of farmland in Kansas already were under water, and a flash flood at McPherson forced several families to evacuate their homes.

Showers also swept Iowa, Minnesota, the Dakotas, portions of the Northeast and parts of the South Atlantic Coast states.

Conferees Agree to Resume Gov't Fluorspar Buying

WASHINGTON — A Senate House conference committee has agreed to allot $6,700,000 to revive a government aid program for domestic producers of asbestos, fluorspar and columbium-tantalum.

The funds are to be used to purchase the minerals for the government stockpile.

In a telegram from Congressman Kenneth J. Gray of the 25th district, he states the conferees have agreed to appropriate $4,200,000 to stockpile fluorspar under the government's strategic minerals stockpiling program.

Money is to be used in fiscal 1958 beginning July 1 this year. This action will insure production in area fluorspar mines.

Awarded Contract

C. E. Brannock, local masonry contractor, has been awarded masonry contract from F. E. Holmes Construction Co. of Marion for the new General Telephone Co. building at Marion.

Masonry work was begun this week. The general contract was for $117,000.

A-Device Fails to Fire

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. — An atomic device short circuited and failed to fire today, forcing a three-man team of scientists to climb a 500-foot tower and disarm the deadly dud.

Atomic Energy Commission officials experienced a tense hour as they were forced to commit five men, two at the base of the tower, to the task of pulling the firing pin. None of the five could be sure but what the slightest jolt would activate the nuclear fission that would vaporize the tower and them.

It was to have been the sixth atomic experiment of the 1957 test series. But the mis-firing threw the AEC into a tizzy.

American and foreign correspondents were on the scene to watch at first hand from News Nob, 14 miles from the blast tower. Some newsmen were in trenches along with 2,000 Marines approximately two miles from ground zero. A group of 17 radiation experts were in a steel dug-out little more than a mile from the base of the tower.

All but the men in the dugout had to be hastily evacuated. Then the AEC had to choose its team from among the volunteers for whom such a contingency is "part of the job."

It was the second mis-firing in the history of the Nevada proving grounds experiments where 50 other blasts have been triggered. On Oct. 19, 1951, a mechanical fault in a key electrical circuit caused a non-detonation.

The present contract, which has been in effect two years, will expire Sept. 30. He said the new contract proposal has been submitted to Wayne Gidumb, president of the Harrisburg Merchants association.

Price added that union officers seek the presence of all members at the Monday night meeting.

Second Economic Meeting Tonight At Court House

Tonight at 7:30 the second meeting to get this area on a better economic footing will be held at the Saline county court house.

The Industrial committee of the Saline County Board of Supervisors has set the machinery in motion to organize a strong area group to attempt to get industry to locate in this region and it is up to the public to get behind the movement.

Right now efforts are being made to have all organizations in Saline county name a representative and an alternate for a strong central committee.

He was arrested at Royalton by Postal Inspectors O. W. Narsworthy of Kankakee and L. K. Gull-bug of Kankakee and brought to Harrisburg, where he was released under $500 bond to appear in Northern district U. S. Court.

Dunning had been working in Elgin, it was learned.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of its self, except it abide in the vine, no more can ye, except ye abide in me. John 15:4.

That faith enabled Paul to do all things through Christ that strengthened him. No one has exhausted the potency of faith.

And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes, and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain. Rev. 21:4.

Bright Fuel Picture

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT

A couple of decades ago, when the nation's population was far smaller, some of our experts used to worry a good deal about America's future fuel supply. Warnings were tossed out that we might run short before too many years had passed.

But here we are with 170 million people in 1957 and the scientists are telling us that we have abundant supplies of fuel beneath the earth.

In a new look at these resources,
the New York Times notes that U. S. geologists say we have enough coal, oil, gas and related reserves to meet the country's needs at an ever-expanding rate for the next 1,000 years.

Since coal is, practically speaking, still our greatest source of fuel, the specialists have labored hard in recent years to keep it competitive with oil and gas which have been in rising use.

Coal's economic difficulties stem largely from the inherent costs of digging out and transporting to market so bulky a product. Today most U. S. shaft mines are highly mechanized, and output per miner is 17 tons a day, against 1.4 tons for a British miner. Open pit or strip mines employ huge mechanical shovels.

More and more coal moves today by cheap waterway, and there is even a pipeline to carry it in semi-liquid form. In some cases, the market—factory or power plant
—is moving closer to the coal field.
And coal users are finding cheaper and more efficient ways of burning this fuel.

The oil industry has had a magnificent expansion, with countless chemical by-products being developed steadily. Oil's big problem is the high cost of exploring new sources. New supplies at shallow depth are harder to locate, and the quest leads now to deeper levels. The industry is spending seven billion dollars a year for this work in America alone.

The geologists are confident, however, that in addition to known reserves there are vast, deep-laid supplies still untapped, which could be developed at a rate more than equal to the nation's rising consumption.

For more distant development are tremendous stocks of oil shale and lignite, the low-grade coal.
Much experimenting still is needed to convert these materials into usable form at competitive cost.
But they represent a huge insurance policy against any future fuel shortage in the United States, no matter what its size after another 20 centuries have passed.

And then there are such new wrinkles as atomic and solar energy, still experimental and com-mercially non-competitive, but sure to enter the field one day.
The "scare story" writers won't find the fuel picture one they can do much with for a long, long time to come.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND by DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Ike's And Kishi's Tie Score
Might Mean Prearranged Senator's Son Puts Baseball Ahead Of Hells Canyon; Brownell Lags On FBI Probe
Of Indiana Scandals.

WASHINGTON. — At his "harmony" breakfast with GOP congressmen, President Eisenhower reported that his foursome golf match with Japanese Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi ended in a tie score.

"That sounds like 'customer' golf to me," quipped an unidentified guest.

"Yes, Mr. President," said Rep.
George Meader of Michigan, "people may think that you and the Prime Minister weren't trying very hard to win over each other."

"No, it was on the level," grinned Ike. "We were playing a high-low point match and it worked out that way. Sen. Prescott Bush (Conn.) was the Prime Minister's partner and the translator was playing with me."

Ike added that the golf match produced a friendly reaction in the Japanese press.

"One of the Tokyo papers," he said, "pointed out that unfriendly nations may negotiate at a conference table, but only friends play golf with each other."

The President, as usual, strolled from table to table in the White House dining room, answering questions and trading banter with his GOP guests. Asked to comment on a recent speech by Democrat Rep. Bob Sikes of Florida, in which Sikes humorously suggested that Democrats should have "equal time" with Republicans at the White House breakfasts, Ike responded:

"Look, I'm paying for these meals out of my own pocket. If the Democrats want to come, it's okay with me, provided the government helps me pay the bill.
Ask Mr. Sikes what he thinks about that."

Rep. Harry McGregor of Ohio praised the quality of the breakfast bacon, then worked in a commercial for his state.

"I'm taking it for granted that such good bacon as this must have come from Ohio."

"I'm not sure," replied Ike.
"However, I do have an Aberdeen
Angus heifer from your district.
We had a little trouble when she calved recently, but I think she's going to be an extra good one."

BASEBALL CAME FIRST
Sitting in the gallery while Sen.
Frank Church (D, Idaho) made his first Senate speech was his 8-year-old son Forrest, a baseball fan who answers to the nickname
"Twig."

The boy sat beside the senator's secretary, Mrs. Ward Hower. Together, they watched other senators swarm over his father to offer congratulations.

"Sure was sensational, wasn't it?" Twig blurted.

"Sure was," agreed Mrs. Hower.
"Imagine!" enthused the boy.

"The Boise Braves made 11 runs in the third inning!"

NO FBI YET
It's hard to believe, but Attorney General Brownell, as of this writing, has not yet ordered the FBI to investigate the big highway scandal in Indiana. This is the scandal where Maurice Hut-cheson, head of the Carpenters, was caught cashing in on land sure to be bought for the federal highway.

Ordinarily, the FBI would be called upon to investigate this immediately. But if you ask the Justice Department whether the FBI is investigating, they will tell you that Attorney General Brownell is "evaluating the situation to ascertain what the facts are." Yet federal money is involved. Furthermore, alert Senator Gore of Tennessee, who discovered the scandal, has sent all the facts to Brownell and urged action. Despite this, Brownell is stalling.

It just happens that Maurice Hutcheson and his father, the late Big Bill Hutcheson, long-time czar of the Carpenters Union, are among the few labor leaders who have consistently supported the Republicans. In fact, Bill Hut-cheson was one of only two Indiana delegates to the GOP convention in Chicago in '52 who voted for Ike.

Furthermore, Elmer (Little Doc) Sherwood, famed Republican lobbyist from Indiana and a power in the American Legion, is a good friend of the attorney general's. Maybe two and two make four—in politics as well as arithmetic.

WHITE HOUSE COULDN'T CHANGE HIM

One man who didn't listen to the White House during the hectic Hells Canyon debate was Sen.
John Sherman Cooper, Republican of Kentucky. Cooper was sitting quietly on the Senate floor listening to the Hells Canyon speeches when a page boy came up to him.

"Senator," he said, "Governor
Adams of the White House wants you in booth 4."

The page boy was referring to Sherman Adams, assistant president, and the most vigorous lobbyist for the big utilities in the entire administration.

Sen. John Sherman Cooper (no-relation to the Sherman in the White House) courteously went to the telephone. When he came back he listened to the debate further and then cast his vote—against the White House.

"SENATOR FROM CALIFORNIA"
Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, sometimes called "the senator from California" because he spends so much time at La Jolla Beach near San Diego, Calif., has been getting into more absentee trouble with his constituents.

Senator Goldwater has a home at La Jolla. He also has a home in Phoenix. Lately he has been canceling engagements in Arizona to speak in other parts of the country. This does not go down well with the people who elected him.

The other day he cancelled a commencement address before the Prescott high school June 4 on the excuse that he had to speak in Wisconsin. He did speak in Wisconsin June 8. But he had plenty of time to speak at the Prescott high school in Arizona first. Naturally, the youngsters were disappointed, to say nothing of their parents.

The week following, Goldwater canceled a speech before the American Legion in Phoenix. The Legion had given him the choice of June 13, 14 or 15. He could have taken either date. But he canceled out to go to Michigan to speak June 14 in a debate against the United Auto Workers.

Some Arizona intimates that come November of 1958 they should vote to let the "Senator from California" remain in California and other parts permanently.

Accidental Patient
SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Samson Eder, 38, went to St. Joseph Hospital to visit a friend who was a patient. He ended up in surgery for removal of his appendix. While chatting with the friend, Eder doubled up in pain.

100,000 TONS OF COAL IN 54 YEARS

The writer, in a friendly interview with Samuel R. Witherspoon of Christopher, Ill., enumerates some interesting facts about the subject of our sketch:

Mr. Witherspoon was born in Moline in February, 1873, 84 years ago. He labored in the coal mines in Fulton and Rock Island counties in Illinois for many years, then moved to Buckner and worked for 14 years in the mines. Later, he worked at other mines in Franklin county, which all totaled 54 years in life as a miner.

During this 54 years, Mr. Witherspoon roughly estimated, has mined 100,000 tons of the famous black diamond fuel.

Challenge! Come on miners who can excel this record in years and tons!

In Memoriam
In loving memory of our dear mother and grandmother, Mrs.
Lula Ann Vinson, who passed away two years ago June 28, 1955:
We saw you fading like a flower,
But could not make you stay.
We nursed you with tender kindness,
Until God called you away.
Oh! Mother dear, we loved you,
And our hearts ache for you still,
Forgotten by some others,
But by us you never will.
By loving children and grandchildren. *1-1

75 Spectaculars On Schedule By TV Networks

By WILLIAM EWALD
 United Press Staff Correspondent
 NEW YORK — You've got a front row ticket next season for such shows as "Annie Get Your Gun," "Twelfth Night" and "Junior Miss."

Those are only three of the 75 spectaculars definitely set for the 1957-58 schedule. The specs promise to shoot some juice into a TV season that otherwise, shapes up as pretty droopy.

ABC-TV is the only major network not planning any spectaculars—unless you count two special one hour Frank Sinatra shows. However, NBC-TV reports 51 special programs locked up and CBS-TV is touting 22 specs.

Among its special shows, NBC-TV will offer six by Bob Hope, six by Jerry Lewis and two by Dean Martin. There are also half a dozen "Hallmark Hall of Fame" entries on the boards including Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night."

Cook Up One-Shots
 NBC-TV also is cooking up some special one-shots like "Annie Get Your Gun" with Mary Martin. "The Pied Piper of Hamelin" with Perry Como and "Pinocchio" with Mickey Rooney.

Along with these NBC-TV will offer a Groucho Marx number, "Time Out For Elizabeth," a "Hans Brinker" Christmas special, "Ali Baba and The 40 Thieves," and two special musicals for General Motors and Standard Oil of New Jersey.

NBC-TV also is planning a series of 16 fairy tales and according to the latest report, a Shirley Temple package (she'd host and act) is back in the running as candidate for the spot.

The major items on the CBS-TV schedule are 10 color musicals for DuPont. CBS-TV will open up the series with a variety show called "Crescendo" and it will follow up with "Junior Miss," "The Prince and The Pauper," "The Little Prince" and an S. J. Perelman version of "Aladdin."

Thomas In Series
 CBS-TV also is counting its five special "I Love Lucy" one-hour shows next season as spectaculars. They'll be in black-and-white.

Lowell Thomas will front seven other special CBS shows called "High Adventure." They'll deal with such subjects as cave exploring and mountain climbing and filmed visits to places like Nepal and New Guinea.

Completing the CBS-TV list are six Art Linkletter holiday spectaculars, "Persons and Places." Linkletter will herd the cameras through the nation as they explore such things as Thanksgiving dinners and Christmas shopping.

THE STORY: Dr. Garde Shelton has escorted Nan Stanfield to a party in Bayard. Nan is the fiancée of Dr. Kurt Lillard, who was convicted of a murder many people think he did not commit. During the party there is a fire in the village and the men, members of the volunteer fire department, leave. Nan and Garde are alone together.

XIII
 Nan sighed and seemed to relax somewhat in the thought of his ready sympathy. Which was fine. He was a man to whom others often talked of pain and grief and hurt.

"I don't know what you've been told or have read in the papers," she said, speaking slowly, "but I am sure it wasn't the story as it happened to me. People were sure I was hurt—Kurt's being indicted for murder just a month before we were to have been married. Then tried and convicted. . . . But Garde, my hurt was somewhat different from what it evidently seemed to others. My hurt began before that awful night when Ben was killed. That happened in September. My hurt began in the middle of July, when my sister came home for the first long visit she'd made us in years. For you see, she fell hard in love with the man I was getting ready to marry."

"She's so beautiful, you know; she could have any man on earth. She even could have had Kurt. She once was engaged to him, and gave him up to have a career. I was just a kid, but I remember the way Kurt and Valley were then, the fun they had, their dates, and the parties. I used to sit on the stairs and watch them. And they were in love. I thought Valley was the silliest thing to give him 6p so that she could go to journalism school. Of all things, because she did love him."

"When she came home and saw him again, even after years, she fell hard. He was older and even better looking than he'd been in his early twenties. I could understand her falling in love all over again."

"What about Lillard?"
 Garde watched her hand twist taculars, "Persons and Places." Linkletter will herd the cameras through the nation as they explore such things as Thanksgiving dinners and Christmas shopping.

As an added bonus, CBS-TV may also repeat two past successes—Judy Garland's "Wizard of Oz" and Rodgers and Hammerstein's "Cinderella."

the beads at her throat. And when she spoke, it was with reserve. "Kurt never told me that he loved Valley."

"He couldn't tell me that—very well—so long as I wore his ring. And Kurt wouldn't hurt me by asking for it back."

Garde wished he were not the sort to whom people confessed their innermost secrets and displayed their wounds.

Nan had her hands clasped tightly against her breast and say saying tensely. "She was with him, you know, on the night of the trouble. That could have just happened, but well—before that—after she came home—she had done things—and said things—little things, generally, but bigger ones at times—until it seemed as if she wanted to hurt us."

Again she was silent, and then looked up. "Valley probably wasn't at all to blame for some of the things that happened. And maybe when she seemed to criticize me, or even make fun of me—the way I dressed and all—maybe she meant well. She isn't as sensitive as I am, you know."

She didn't say more, and Garde was not in a position to fill in the details of the "things that kept happening."

"What about this Ben?" he asked after a time.

She whirled. "Oh, of course you've heard stories about him. Poor Ben! Garde, have you ever known a person that always did the wrong thing, who always stepped out on the wrong foot?"

"I can manage to do it myself sometimes. It's not a difficult thing to do."

"That was what caused the row which Kurt had with him just a few nights before he was killed. It was the Labor Day dance down at the club—and when I walked out on the pier with him, he thought it was required of him to kiss me. Or try to. It was only coincidence, of course, that someone snapped the switch that turned on the pier lights—they went off again almost at once—but it was too bad that it happened just when it did. Ben was a crazy sort of kid and thought girls wanted to be mauled about. I thought it was too bad that Kurt felt he should take action against that boy. He came down and knocked Ben into the water, which isn't hard to do on a narrow pier."

"Hm. . . . And there'd been earlier trouble, too, between them, hadn't there?"

Soon she answered. "Yes, Kurt had had trouble with Ben before. Five years before. Ben—well, he was an irritating sort of person. Just the way he looked made some people mad. "When he was about 17—my father calls that the obnoxious age—his car crowded Kurt's off the road, and Ben kept driving past the car in the ditch, cat-calling to Kurt and the girl he had with him. Finally he came up to do it again while the patrol was there and they stopped his car. Kurt took it upon himself to pull Ben out of the car and slap him. Hard. He didn't really hurt him, but he shouldn't have touched him at all. He knew it the minute he'd done it, and yet . . . Until Kurt was tried for murdering Ben, a lot of people seemed to think he'd done the proper thing."

She turned sharply to look at

U. S. is Keeping 'Open Mind' On China: Dulles

SAN FRANCISCO — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said today the United States is keeping an "open mind" on eventual diplomatic relations with Red China.

But he said the Peking regime would have to change its ways drastically to win U. S. recognition.

Dulles said in a speech prepared for the 40th annual convention of Lions International that he is confident the United States and Red China mainland some day would be on friendly terms again.

Communism in China, as elsewhere, he said, is a "passing and not a perpetual phase."

"We owe it to ourselves, our Allies and the Chinese people to do all that we can to contribute to that passing," Dulles added.

The secretary made it clear that this country intends neither to recognize nor trade with Red China under existing conditions.

He reiterated the American indictment of the regime of Mao Tse-tung.

"Internationally," he said, "the Chinese Communist regime does not conform to the practices of civilized nations; does not live up to its international obligations; has not been peaceful in the past, and gives no evidence of being peaceful in the future."

"Its foreign policies are hostile to us and our Asian Allies."

Garde, "I wasn't the girl with Kurt that night," she said quickly. "It wasn't your sister either, was it?"
 She looked at him gravely. "Of course Kurt knew other women, Garde!"

Emory Grider

... his four hats and civic responsibility

Many of man's finest accomplishments are the result of active community service. Men and women from all walks of life often do the seemingly impossible through such collective effort.

Emory Grider takes civic responsibility seriously. He devotes many hours a week of his spare time to working with friends and neighbors on worthwhile projects.

Today, you may find him fighting a fire as one of 25 volunteers serving the Barry Fire Protective District. Tomorrow, as a registered Red Cross instructor, he may be teaching first aid . . . or using this training with the Pike County Volunteer Emergency Service Corps, a rescue organization he helped form. Next month, as a Boy Scout Explorer-Advisor, he may spend his vacation guiding a party of scouts on a canoe trip through remote lake regions of the middle west.

Emory Grider's job, too, is one of responsibility. As the CIPS utility man in the Barry-Baylis-New Canton area, he's the on-the-scene representative for his company—daily performing the many tasks necessary in maintaining adequate, dependable electric service.

Emory and hundreds of other CIPS people, on and off the job, are constantly seeking . . . and finding . . . new ways to help make each community their company serves a better place in which to live.

ONE PENNY'S WORTH of electricity will power your television set for a full hour. What else do you buy today that does so much . . . costs so little?

evidence at the scene to tell which way the cars were going or in whose lane of traffic the head-on crash occurred.

Treat for Class
He could find no broken glass or debris on the pavement and that he could see no skid marks. The crash was on a long, long stretch of straight and level highway.

The Lasseter station wagon, he stated, was on the shoulder on the south side of the road, pointed toward the road, and that the Brown car was on the north shoulder headed toward Eldorado.

When Officers Lane and Athmer went to Ferrell hospital last night, none of the boys were able to talk about the accident.

It was learned, however, that Lasseter was in the habit of picking up members of his Sunday school class and treating them and that the boys liked to make the drive to Eldorado.

Lasseter and the Smith and Webb boys apparently died instantly following the crash and Brown died in Ferrell hospital around 10:15 p. m.

Bodies of Lasseter and the Webb boy, who was not identified until some time after the crash, were taken to the Gaskins funeral home and Eugene Choiser of the Martin funeral home, Eldorado, who had picked up young Smith at the accident scene and rushed him to Ferrell hospital with the injured, only to find him dead on arrival, brought the body to the Harrisburg funeral home. Brown's body was taken to the Martin funeral home.

Lasseter Rites Sunday
Marion Lasseter, who had owned and operated Midway Market for the past ten years, was born Sept. 17, 1910, at Raleigh, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis M. Lasseter.

In 1930 he was married to Sybil Bishop of Raleigh. Besides his wife and parents he leaves two daughters, Sandra, who was graduated from high school this spring, and a younger girl, Karen; and a brother, George Lasseter of Tuscola.

Prior to coming to Harrisburg he worked in Detroit.

His funeral service will be held Sunday afternoon at McKinley Avenue Baptist church, where he was active in church work. The Rev. J. D. McCarty, pastor, will conduct the service and burial will be in the Raleigh Masonic cemetery.

James Smith Rites
The body of James Leigh Smith, 12, will lie in state at the Harrisburg funeral home and the funeral will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday at McKinley Avenue Baptist church with the Rev. J. D. McCarty conducting the rites. Burial will be in Sunset Garden cemetery.

Pallbearers will be Reno Ganz, Cal Wiedemann, Roy Fulkerson, E. W. Oze, Clarence Owens and Webb Yarbrough.

He leaves his father and his mother, the former Mary Louise Dillard; two sisters, Sandra Sue and Vickie Lynn; and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Athel Dillard, all of Harrisburg.

Legislature Plans a 'Mopup' Meeting to Adjourn Saturday

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — The Legislature abandoned hopes of adjourning its six month session today and planned a "mopup" meeting Saturday.

Sen. Arthur J. Bidwell (R-River Forest), Senate president pro tem, who first said he believed final adjournment could be reached today, changed his mind and announced the Senate will meet Saturday to handle concurrences in amendments tacked on bills.

House Speaker Warren L. Wood (R-Plainfield) said he didn't think the Saturday meeting would have to last more than an hour.

Going into today's session the Senate had only about 70 bills still requiring action including Gov. William G. Stratton's highway safety program. The House had only about 25 bills left, including a measure to abolish the Public Aid Commission and replace it with a new department under the governor.

The Senate Thursday passed a bill to permit school districts to raise their tax rates without referendum. It would permit community unit districts to boost their rates from $1 to $1.25, and also allow a 25 cent rate for school building funds. Districts operating grade schools only would be allowed to boost their rates to 65 cents.

Extend Sales Tax
The Senate removed a House amendment providing for a "backdoor referendum" whereby 10 per cent of the voters in a district

13, will be moved late today from the Gaskins funeral home to the family residence on Harrisburg Route 1, where it will lie in state.

The son of Raymond and Lela Webb, Bertis would have been in the eighth grade at South Willford school in September.

The funeral service will be Sunday afternoon at McKinley Avenue Baptist church, the hour to be announced later, with burial in Liberty cemetery. The Rev. J. D. McCarty will conduct the rites. Bertis, Daily Register carrier in the South Willford area, leaves the following brothers and sisters, all of Harrisburg.

Mrs. Elsie Pollard, Arthur Frank Webb, Raelen Webb, Paul David Webb and Marvin Webb.

Brown, Veteran of War II
Earl Eugene Brown resided on U. S. 45 north of Eldorado where he operated a service station and grocery store.

He leaves his wife, Bonnie, a small daughter, Janet Lee, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brown of Eldorado.

His body will lie in state at the Martin funeral home. Funeral arrangements call for the rites to be held at 2 p. m. Sunday at the Eldorado Church of God with the Rev. A. B. Plunkett conducting the service. Burial will be in Wolf Creek cemetery.

A veteran of World War II and a member of the American Legion, he recently was elected president of the board of education of the new Crossroads Community Consolidated School District No. 99 near Eldorado and was to take over in this capacity July 1.

could petition for a referendum. However, the "backdoor referendum" amendment was expected to be put back in the bill by the House.

The House passed and sent to the governor bills to permit retailers to deduct 2 per cent of the sales and use taxes they collect to cover their cost of collection and record keeping.

Also sent to the governor were measures to extend the sales and use taxes to cover repair services for example on automobiles and watches.

Another bill given final passage would exempt trade-in values from the state use tax. A similar bill has already been vetoed this session, but sponsors of the new measure said it avoided constitutional objections.

Increases in state unemployment compensation benefits also went to the governor. The increases range from $28 a week to $30 for a single person with no dependents to a boost from $40 a week to $45 for a married person with four or more dependents.

The Senate passed by a one-vote margin the controversial bill banning Sunday sales of automobiles. The bill had been killed twice and then brought back to life.

Another bill given final passage would limit the finance charges which may be charged on automobiles bought on the installment plan.

Another bill would increase legal maximum weight loads for five axle tandem trucks from 68,000 pounds to 72,000 pounds.

William Fowler, 85, Of Rudement Dies

There are nine grandchildren and fifteen great-grandchildren, surviving. He was a life long resident of Saline county.

Two Illinois Men Drowned in Sinking of Vessel by Hurricane

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Two Illinois men were drowned in the sinking of a fishing vessel off Galveston, Tex., when hurricane Audrey crashed along the Gulf Coast. E. K. Braswell, manager of the Warren Fish Co., released the names of eight persons signed aboard the 78-ton vessel Keturah. All were presumed drowned when the ship sank Wednesday.

Among them were Floyd Winters and Robert Tusler both of Moline. No bodies have been recovered.

Price Boost by U. S. Steel May Result in Congressional Probe

NEW YORK (AP) — A price increase of $6 a ton announced by United States Steel Corp. Thursday night set off a reaction which may result in a congressional investigation of the steel company and the wage-price spiral in general.

The increase will add more than half a billion dollars to the nation's steel bill. Other producers, who usually follow the giant U. S. Steel's lead, are expected to follow its price increase pattern.

All items manufactured from steel, from safety pins to locomotives, most likely will reflect the increase.

The price increase, coming just one day after President Eisenhower's renewed plea to industry and labor to practice restraint in price and wage boosts, brought angry comments in Congress.

"Mr. Eisenhower's requests don't seem to have much effect, do they?" Rep. Brent Spence (D-Ky.) said.

House Democratic whip Carl Albert (Okla.) called for an immediate congressional investigation into the "irresponsible" action of U. S. Steel.

Economists said the price increase announced by U. S. Steel was lower than expected, apparently reflecting industry concern over inflation and the possibility of a congressional investigation of its pricing policies.

The price rise goes into effect July 1 the same day that steelworkers get an automatic pay increase under the three-year, no-strike pact signed last August. That contract ended a 34-day steel strike.

West Frankfort Boy On Job Hunt, Object of Search

WEST FRANKFORT, Ill. (AP) — Jack Raymond Williams, 14, West Frankfort who pawned his bicycle to buy a bus ticket to seek farm work is the object of a search by state and city police.

Williams pedaled 25 miles over Franklin County on his bicycle Wednesday looking for a farm job, but had no success.

So, he pawned his bicycle for $8 and bought a bus ticket to Vienna, where he hoped a friend could find him a job. But the friend had gone to Peoria to work.

Jack bought another bus ticket to Effingham, and was scheduled to arrive there early Thursday morning.

Authorities said the boy might be seeking farm work in the Effingham area, might be en route to the home of an uncle, Andy Williams, who lives near Bloomington, or might be headed for Peoria.

Police described the boy as 5 feet 10 inches, 150 pounds, with blue eyes light brown hair, and wearing blue jeans and a T-shirt.

First Of The Month

CENTRAL FALLS, R. I. — Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Pate-naude's children have these birthdays: Jan. 1, 1954—daughter; Feb. daughter.

Von McDaniel Wins Third Game for Cardinals; Hot Giants Defeat Reds, 7 to 2

By United Press
Bill Rigney believes his revved-up Giants can win the pennant, and while he might have been laughed off only a month ago, all the other National League contenders don't consider it such a big joke today.

Truth of the matter is that the Giants, who beat the Cincinnati Redlegs, 7-2, Thursday night, are the hottest club in the majors at the moment.

Bauer Sisters Share Lead in Women's Open

MAMARONECK, N. Y. — The famous Bauer Sisters, bidding for the biggest title of them all to climax the famous golfing careers they began in their teens, shared the lead today in the U. S. Women's Open championship.

They each shot first round one-under-par 72s, the only ones in the starting field of 32 professionals and 63 amateurs to crack par Wednesday on the sun-baked 6,246-yard east course of the Winged Foot Golf Club. That gave them a one-stroke edge over Gloria Armstrong of Oakland Calif., who divides her time between flying airplanes and playing golf.

While some in the field were closely bunched behind the leaders, the performances of the belting Bauers put them in the favorite's role, with Mrs. Marlene Bauer Hagge, the younger of the two, given an edge over Alice Bauer because her play this year has been far more consistent.

The 23-year-old Marlene, who is married to Alice's ex-husband, has won $7,237 on the PGA tournament trail so far this year while Alice who is 28, has picked up only $1,016.

But there was no question but what they dominated the opening round as no family ever has dominated a major golf tournament before.

Miss Armstrong, who has won less than $200 since she turned professional two years ago, had nines of 36-37 for her par 73.

One of the six former champions in the field, Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S. C., who won the title in 1951, and Betsy Dodd, the veteran pro from Louisville, Ky., were tied at 74.

At 75 came another former winner, Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Tex., who won it in 1947; Jo Ann Prentice of Birmingham, Ala., and Betty Hicks of Long Beach, Calif. Louise Suggs of Sea Island, Ga., who won the tournament in 1949 and Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga., had 76s.

Larry Boardman-Johnny Busso Bout Tonight

BOSTON — Young Larry Boardman meets club fighter Johnny Busso of New York in a nationally-televised 10-rounder at Mechanics Building tonight that could gain the Marlboro, Conn. contender a shot at the lightweight title.

But the 23-year-old Boardman isn't taking the Busso match lightly. Boardman made that type of mistake last year when he was in line for a match with champion Joe Brown.

Meeting the in-and-out Orlando Zulueta, Larry decided to switch from his "go for broke" style of back-busting and became a shot picker, darting in and out through 10 rounds. The result: Zulueta beat Boardman on a decision.

Boardman nevertheless ruled a slight favorite to gain his 30th win in 34 bouts (3 defeats and 1 draw) over the New Yorker whose 34-4 record stamps him as a worthy opponent.

VFW to Play Springerton Here Saturday Night

The Springerton Tigers baseball team will play the Harrisburg VFW baseball team Saturday night in an Oil Belt League game starting at 7:30 p. m. at VFW Memorial Field.

The VFW has a 9-4 record for the year and a 4-2 league record. Springerton has a 1-3 league record but will be out to upset the VFW. Manager Carl Cushman has recently added Eugene Ackerman to the Tigers' roster. Ackerman is a fast ball pitcher and should help the Springerton mound staff.

VFW will have Bill McNew or Don Wallace on the mound with Dick Romonosky catching. Bob Dallas will be on first, Don Stout on second, Carl Griffith on short, Dick Odle on third and the outfield will be picked from Ray Sis-ky, James Hay, Paul Emery, Aggie Miller and Ray Tonazzi.

Harrisburg players are asked to be out by 6:30 to start hitting practice.

Garden Hints for July

Cultivate frequently, but not deeply. Deep cultivation between growing plants harms them by destroying feeding roots near the surface.

Draw earth around the base of corn to prevent the stalks being blown down.

Sow beets, carrots and rutabagas for winter storage. Set out plants of cabbage, cauliflower, kale and broccoli for late crops.

Toward the latter part of the month, sow head lettuce, radishes and turnips.

Don't mow the lawn too closely.

Matter of FACT

Britannica Junior Encyclopedia

The Aztecs, whose culture virtually matched Europe's of the times, were conquered by the 450 Spaniards under Cortes with amazing speed—in part because their "empire" contained many disaffected tribes, and in part because of their own ancient legend that a "white god" from the East would return to rule over them. In astronomy, medicine, law and government, their learning was almost equal to Spain's.

Set the mower to cut at a height of two to three inches. In dry weather, water the grass thoroughly once a week. Do not sprinkle which will only harm the grass.

Do not fertilize the lawn at this time, but do feed the roses, gladioli and vegetables with soluble fertilizers.

Keep faded flowers cut from snapdragons, phlox, lupines, delphiniums, roses and other plants. This encourages them to keep blooming.

Cut back lightly and fertilize alysum, petunias, verbenas and other annuals that are a little straggly and weary-looking. This will give them a new lease on life.

As soon as the rambler roses have finished blooming cut out, at ground level, all old flowering canes that can be spared and tie in new shoots that spring from the base. A mulch of rotted manure with bone-meal added or a light dressing of commercial fertilizer applied now, benefits both climbing and bush roses.

Cut out fruiting canes of raspberries as soon as the fruit has been gathered. This applied to the everbearing kinds as well as others.

Don't permit seed pods to form on rhododendrons. Pick off the flower clusters when faded.

If at all possible, mulch all evergreens, especially the broad-leaved kinds.

Shear evergreen hedges now of hemlock, yew and arborvitae, keep a sharp look-out for red spiders and mites on hemlock, spruce, phlox, primrose and other plants.

Driving Tips for A Safe July 4th

As millions of fun-seeking motorists head for the lakes, mountains or beaches over the Fourth of July holiday, safety experts are hopeful that extra care and caution will keep the highway accident toll at an all-time low.

To help achieve this goal, Jeanne Smith Dodge, safety consultant, has prepared this list of 10 driving tips.

1. Control your temper when behind the wheel. Highways are crowded and travel is slow; don't "blow-up" and take unnecessary chances.
2. Start early, expect frequent delays and leave for home early, preferably during daylight.
3. Watch out for careless drivers who are over-anxious to reach their destinations.
4. Slow down, to allow passing cars extra room to get back into the right lane ahead of you.
5. Always give the other driver more than his share of the road.
6. Get into the proper lane well in advance of turning—and always signal your intention to turn or stop.

7. Pull your car entirely off the road when stopping for sightseeing or a roadside picnic.

8. Check traffic in all directions, especially to the rear, before pulling out of a parking spot onto the highway.

9. Reduce speed at sundown and drive within the range of your headlights.

10. Concentrate on your driving—it's a full time job.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D. D. (Written for NEA Service)

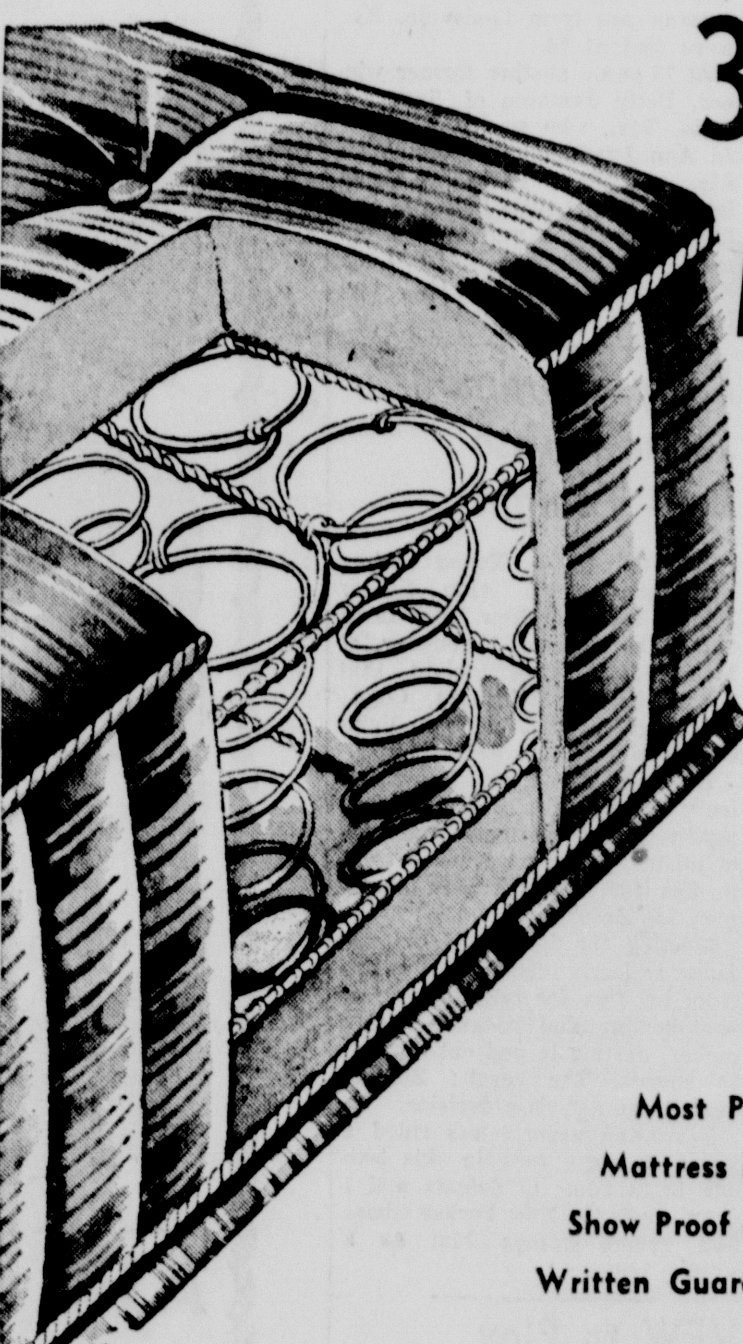

A block of ice can be sculptured into a beautiful image which holds its shape indefinitely under the right conditions of temperature and humidity. Yet in the normal temperatures in which we live the ice melts and the form of the image disappears.

The ice appears solid. It looks permanent in its form. It feels as hard as any other material. It gives the impression of being indestructible. Yet it can completely disappear as fluid or vapor in a short time.

Icy hearts which are indifferent toward other people are just as impermanent. They, too, can be melted by the warmth of God and friendship. The process takes a little longer if the icy heart is housed in a cold person—in a being who closes the door on love.

We can all make the world more friendly if we work with God to melt the frigid hearts of humanity.

Motor Trip Safety May Depend on Ma

NEW YORK — — The American Automobile Association says women can do a number of things to insure the safety of their families on a motor trip.

One of them, said AAA, is as simple as going to the glove compartment of the family car and seeing that it contains a number of security items. These are: a record of the name, address and telephone number of the family; the name of the person to be notified in case of emergency; a pad of paper, pencils, and a flashlight.

In addition, said AAA, the woman should see that there is a first aid kit and fire extinguisher in the car, and check that the family's insurance policies are up to date.
